Another Sensation in Wall Street.

"WESTERN UNION" AND "WABASH."

Forgod Letters Read in the Stock Exchange-'That Same Old Hand"-A Gentleman Who Writes Too Well-Stampede of the Festive Brokers-Selling, Buying and Sold-The Credit of the Street Impugned.

Yesterday was an exciting day in Wall street. Not since the "panic" has such a bombshell fallen into that charmed circle known as the New York Stock Exchange. At two o'clock in the afternoon "the street" presented an unwonted appearance and to the most casual observer it was evident that the outward tranquility which ordinarily reigns in that volcanic region. It takes a great deal to disturb Wall street; but it was evident that a state of high excitement was reached yesterday.

A lew minutes after one o'clock yesterday afternoon a messenger boy—one of the regularly uni-formed messengers of the Stock Exchange handed a letter to Vice President Wheelock, who opened the envelope listlessly, and, standing, read out the announcement that the Western Union Telegraph Company wished to give notice to the New York Stock Exchange that they, the Western Union Telegraph Company, had increased their capital stock from $41,073,410 to $50,000,000. The letter was addressed to Moses H. Wheelock, Vice President of the New York Stock Exchange, and ran as follows :-

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANT,)
NEW YORK, Feb. 17, 1874. 5
WHEELOCK, Esq., Vice President New York Moses H. Wheelock, Esq., Vice President New York Stock Exchange:

As required by the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, you are hereby informed that the Directors of this Company, after mature deliberation, and acting, as they believe, in accordance with the ultimate best interests of the Company, have decided to rease the capital stock of this Company from 341,473,40 to $50,000,000. The will be expected to be added to $50,000,000. The the company, will be expended in the extantise of the Company to nearly all the post offers in the United States, and for the establishment of an that while the establishment of new lines may delay for a little the expected dividends to stockholders, they captes a confident hope that by thus taking possession of the whole field, and effectively the sale of the stock will be in no way diminished, and that reasonable dividends can be paid at no distant day. Yours truly, WILLIAM ORFON, President.

This note had scarcely been read when another floor page rushed across the floor of the Exchange from the New street entrance and handed Wheelock another letter. The second letter was addressed, as was the first, to Moses H. Wheelock. Vice President New York Stock Exchange, and the Vice President read it in THE SAME BUSINESS tone in which he did the other. The Exchange was dull at the time. The gay and festive brokers were apparently at their lunch. But if they were the meal was hastily finished. For some one, who had an eye to number one in another sense, had had his sharpened by the reading of the first letter and listened most attentively to the reading of the second, and carried the news right quickly. second letter was dated from the offices of the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway Company, and both were written on printed slips of the company's paper. It ran: -- New York, Feb. 17, 1874.

TO THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE NEW YORK STOC

BXCHANGE:—
In accordance with the rules of the New York Stock Exchange you are hereby notified that, at the expiration of thirty days, this company will issue 100,000 shares of additional capital stock, increasing the common stock of the company from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000. Proceeds of such additional shares will be used for the purchase of such additional shares will be used for the purchase or new rolling stock and engines and for repairs of present rolling stock, for constructing new bridges, for building additional double track, for the purchase of steel rails, for obtaining improved terminal facilities, and for other similar purposes of the company. Very respectfully, J. D. COX.

Though the Exchange was comparatively empty when the above letters were read, it filled in an than it takes to describe the change. Chaos, of course, ensued-a natural consequence of a startling announcement in the New York Stock Exchange; but fortunately there were two or three sane individuals left who took the letters from sane individuals left who took the letters from THE VICE PRESIDENT'S DESK, and, having examined them, pronounced them at once and unnestatingly forgeties. The officers of the Exchange of course immediately sent letters to the officers of the two companies which were said to have increased their capital stock. The following epigrammatic announcement came from the officers of the foledo, Wadash and Western Railroad Company:—

The above is not genuine. Mr. Cox is in Toledo. There has been no meeting, neither is this Mr. Cox's signature.
P. W. BalfGGs, Transfer Clerk. Later on the following letter was received from Mr. William Orton, the President of the Western

Mr. William Orton, ...
Union Telegraph Company: —

Rew York, Feb. 17, 1874. H. G. Chappan, Esq., Freshees see that change:

I have just learned an announcement has been made an the stock Exchange that the directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company have recently voted to increase the capital stock to $50,00,000. This announcement has no foundation in fact. No meeting of the directors has been held for several months, nor has the matter of the increase of the capital stock of the company been a subject of consideration at any meeting of the Executive Committee. Respectfully, President William ORTON, President matter of the increase of the capital stock of the company been a subject of consideration at any meeting of the Executive Committee. Respectfully,

But meantime one stock, the Western Union, had fallen off nearly jour per cent, and the other, what Mr. Daniel Drew would call "those Way bosh sheers," a trifle short of three per cent. Men rushed into the Stock Exchange to sell when the forged announcements of an increase of capital stock were made. In men who had sold rushed in to buy at the old "panic prices," but they lound themselves "sold." The place was rather excited at first, but characteristically the gay and lestive element knuckied down to "hard pan," and by three o'clock in the afternoon all you could hear on the street was the usual hadinage, and an occasional question asked, in all seriousness of course,

A FEW SHORT MINUTES

"Was it you wrote that letter?"

Several gentlemen who had been "carrying Western Union" took a serious view of the matter and were slightly demonstrative, but the twinkle in the right eye of the listener showed that he had been "short" and that "he took it all in." In these lew short nours, in a word, hundreds of thousands of dollars had been lost and won, four per cent ceing what most men would term a "heavy drop," Immediately after the bogus announcement from the Western Union Telegraph office a Herald reporter called on Mr. William Orton, the President of the company. That gentleman was evidently holding a directors" levee, but appeared willing enough to inform the public what he thought of THE FRAUD which had been perpetrated on his company. After the reporter had introduced the object of his visit, Mr. Orton said:—

PRESIDENT ORTON'S STATEMENT.

"You have doubtless heart the statement that this company intended to increase its capital stock. That statement is false in every particular."

"Of course you could have no possible intimation of this, Mr. Orton," suggested the reporter.

"No; beyond the lact that I received a circular, to which I paid no attention," was the ans cular?"

"Yes. It was a circular calling for a meeting of the directors of the company, at the Grand Central depot, at half-past one o'clock to-day. To-morrow, you know, is the regular day for a meeting of the directors, but when I received the circular I paid you know, is the regular day to directors, but when I received the circular I baid no attention to it. It was sent, as I understand, to most of the directors, but few of them, I believe, paid any attention to it. Some did go to the Grand Central depot, however. It was part of the same game to send this bogus circular and to send bogus annuancements to the Vice President of the New York Stock Exchange."

"Have you any idea where the fraud originated, Mr. Orton ?" asked the reporter.

"No, sir; but the same man who originated the rumor of Commodore Vanderbilt's death has undertaken this."

The reporter left the building and went down to the offices of the Pacific Mail Company, at No. 59 Wall street. Here he conversed with several of the directors, who animadverted somewhat severely on the Vice President's action in reading the letters. One prominent man on the street remarked:—

"He should have marked :-"He should have

"He should have
CONSULTED THE GOVERNING COMMITTEE of the Stock Exchange, or else he should have sent to the directors of the companies involved before reading any such document from the rostrum. There is only one course for the Governing Committee to pursue in the matter."
This statement may be taken as an index of the general feeling on the street late in the afternoon, for the winners had gone up town early, as they said, because "it was a dull alternoon."
THE GOVERNING COMMITTEE.

THE GOVERNING COMMITTEE.
The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange met at three o'clock to take action on the matter and remained in session for several hours. The consultation was of course private, but the HERALD representative learned that four members of the Stock Exchange had been summoned before them to testify as to handwriting. It was then stated anthoritatively that the Governing Committee had discovered that the handwriting of the letter to the Vice President which announced the death of Commodore Vanderblit some weeks since, with the object of depreciating THE VANDERBILT STOCKS, was identical with that of both letters purporting to come from the Western Union Telegraph office and the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway vesterday.

and the Toledo, Wabish and Western Railway yesterday.

the Governing Committee sent for Detective Sampson, who arrived on the scene with a brother of the craft in a few minutes. The meeting broke up shortly afterwards, and the detectives accompanied two of the Governing Committee, who apparently had important matters to communicate to them. After the adjournment a Herald reporter called on Mr. J. B. White, the Secretary of the Governing Committee, and that gentleman went naively over the whole story.

To sum up Mr. White's STATEMENT.

The Governing Committee have discovered that a most ingenious fraud has been perpetrated on the New York Stock Exchange. They have satisfied themselves of this, and they will meet tomorrow afternoon (to-day), at three o'clock, and then the grand circus will begin. This then there is nothing, absolutely nothing, de-ing.

And Mr. White went away with an air as if he had not been carrying Western Union and as 'f he had said a very pleasant thing indeed.

RAPID TRANSIT.

A Comprehensive Plan Advanced by Alderman McCafferty-Row the Operations Are To Be Conducted.

A short time ago Mr. Eastman, of Poughkeepste, Chairman of the Assembly Committee on Cities and Villages, applied to Alderman Robert McCafferty for information in regard to the best method of establishing rapid transit in the city of New York. In response Aiderman McCafferty sub-mitted the following plan:—

1. The Governor shall appoint five "Rapid Transit Commissioners: "
2. Commissioners shall give bonds in $300,000 each.
3. Commissioners shall serve—one for two years, to for three years and two for five years, to be determined."

for three years and two for five years, to be determined by lot.

4. At the expiration of the terms of the Commissioners appointed by the Governor, or in the event of vacancies occurring by the death, resignation or removal or any of them, the Mayor of the cry of New York to fill the vacancies for the unexpired terms or for a term of five years as the case may require.

5. The thovernor or have nower of removal for cause, and after a hearing, over the Commissioners appointed by him. The Mayor shall have the same power over his appointed.

6. The Commissioners shall qualify by official oath, and shall elect from their number a president, secretary and treasurer.

shall elect from their number a president, secretary and treasurer.

7. The Commissioners shall call on the Mayor to advertise in five unantes for a period of thirty ways for plans and specifications for a means of procuring rapid transit, to be submitted to said Commissioners within thirty days from the day of final advertisement, and offering a prize of $50.00 for the best plan, to be selected by the Commissioners, to be paid to the owner of the plan by the Comptroller on the Commissioners certificate of selection.

8. The plans to show the route and manner of construction, and to be accompanied by estimates of cost and specification.

9. When the plans, &c., are decided on, the Commissioners to open books of subscription to the capital stock of a company to be called the "Rapid Transit Company of the City of New York," and to keep the books open for sixty days.

for sixty days.

10 The capital stock to be $10,000,000, in shares of $100 each.

Il. If the two-third part of the capital is subscribed and one-third of the same paid into the treasury the Commissioners will call a meeting of the stockholders and cause an election of twenty-one directors to be held, who shall proceed with the Directors shall be elected the Commissioners of Directors shall be elected the Commissioners of the State of the St

28. Should the company tail to proceed it shall be dispossessed by action at law on the suit of said Board of Alderman and the Commissioners shall again take possession of the works and property for the city.

29. The ten per cent of the net profits coming to the city to be applied to the payment of the city debt and to be credited for that purpose to the sinking fund.

30. None but American material to be used in the construction and operation of the means of procuring rapid transit.

Property Owners Taking Action.

A meeting of the various associations of property owners, from the east side, west side, south side and north side, was held vesterday afternoon. at Nos. 4 and 6 Warren street, to make arrangements for a monster mass meeting to be held shortly. It was decided that these organizations attend the meeting called for next alonday evening at Cooper Institute, and co-operate with the committee appointed for the establishment of

CITY HALL AFFAIRS.

Reducing Salaries of Officials-The Departments To Be Overhauled.

For some time past the Joint Committee of the Common Council, appointed to investigate the affairs of the various departments to equalize salaries, have been collecting information on the subject. They have found that the salaries of the chief clerks of various courts are larger than their services would justify, and that the number of subordinate clerks and court attendants could be redueed some fitty per cent without detriment to duecd some fitty per cent without detriment to the public business. The committee has also as-certained that the expenses of various depart-ments can be reduced, and that prompt action on the subject will result in sav-ing a very large amount to the city. But the committee's powers are merely of a sugges-tive or recommendatory character. In some in-stances the number of employes and the amounts paid to them are fixed either by statutes, ordi-nances or heads of departments. The committee held their first session yesterday afternoon, and nances or neads of departments. The committee held their first session yesterday afternoon, and will continue to meet until prepared to report on the whole subject. The committee consists of Aldermen McCafferty (charman), Ottendorfer and Billings, and Assistant Aldermen Chancy, Kehoe and Healy. Mr. Francis J. Tuomey was appointed others.

in the course of the discussion it was decided to begin with the Dock Department, next with the Department of Buildings, then with the Fire Department.

Adderman McCAFFERTY said the appropriation for the Department of Buildings had been increased from $40,000 in 1872 to $110,000 in 1874.
